Democratic Attorney Generals across the country, including Rhode Island AG Peter Neronha, are leading the push against the illegal executive orders issued by President Trump. The unchecked power is causing chaos and danger for all states in this country, regardless of political party.

These efforts include:

- Suing the federal government to challenge the President's unconstitutional executive order attempting to end birthright citizenship. <https://www.riag.ri.gov/press-releases/attorney-general-neronha-challenges-unconstitutional-executive-order-ending>
- Issuing guidance to RI k-12 schools on how to safeguard the right of students with respect to immigration enforcement/ICE. <https://www.riag.ri.gov/press-releases/attorney-general-neronha-and-commissioner-infante-green-issue-guidance-schools>
- Co-leading a lawsuit and follow-up enforcement efforts against the President's unlawful federal funding freeze. (lawsuit) https://www.riag.ri.gov/press-releases/attorney-general-neronha-co-leads-22-states-and-district-columbia-suing-stop-trump\(enforcement\)) <https://www.riag.ri.gov/press-releases/attorney-general-neronha-applauds-judge-mcconnells-granting-motion-enforce-funding>
- Suing to stop illegal actions by the nefarious-sounding DOGE to access our personal information and conduct work without proper vetting as every other senior official and government employee is. (2 lawsuits) (1) <https://www.riag.ri.gov/press-releases/attorney-general-neronha-joins-multistate-coalition-suing-stop-elon-musk-and-doges> (2) <https://www.riag.ri.gov/press-releases/attorney-general-neronha-files-landmark-multistate-lawsuit-stop-elon-musks>
- Suing to prevent major RI institutions (URI, Brown U, Brown Health, CNE, etc.) from having their public health grant funding cut. <https://www.riag.ri.gov/press-releases/attorney-general-neronha-sues-trump-administration-defunding-medical-and-public>
- Filed amicus brief supporting a lawsuit against the forced federal job buyout. <https://www.riag.ri.gov/press-releases/attorney-general-neronha-stands-federal-workers-challenging-fork-road-federal-buyout>

- Issuing guidance to RI employers to understand the viability and importance of diversity, equity, inclusion, and accessibility policies and practices in the workplace. <https://www.riag.ri.gov/press-releases/attorney-general-neronha-issues-multistate-guidance-businesses-diversity-equity>
- Filing an amicus brief supporting a lawsuit against the attempt to ban transgender people from serving in the military. <https://www.riag.ri.gov/press-releases/attorney-general-neronha-stands-transgender-military-members-challenge-president>
- Issuing statements:
  - Against attempts by the federal government to commandeer state and local law enforcement for immigration enforcement. <https://www.riag.ri.gov/press-releases/joint-statement-attorney-general-neronha-and-10-state-attorneys-general-state-and>
  - Urging the US Senate to demand answers from FBI Director nominee Kash Patel on retaliation efforts. <https://www.riag.ri.gov/press-releases/attorney-general-neronha-joins-coalition-20-attorneys-general-urge-senate-demand>
  - Affirming the protection of access to gender affirming care in response to the President's attempts to shut off funding for that life-saving care. <https://www.riag.ri.gov/press-releases/attorney-general-neronha-and-14-attorneys-general-issue-joint-statement-protecting>
  - Against the Vice President's negative comments on judicial review. <https://www.riag.ri.gov/press-releases/attorney-general-neronha-issues-statement-regarding-vice-president-vances-comments>
